

AUSTRALIAN REINFORCEMENTS FOR SINGAPORE.

Japan alternately changes her tune from martial music to the cooing of the dove of peace. Australia therefore sends more troops to the Empire's important base at Singapore, just in case. We don't intend to let the grass grow under our feet.

They're in the best of spirits as they leave for the key to the gateway of the east; and they didn't forget the doorknocker.