

NAZI PRISONERS.

More Nazis at a British railway station being taken away to a prison camp. It's always good to see Germans being put out of harm's way; ~~they all look so very unpleasant~~ <sup>They've all been taught to</sup> ~~Swim~~

BRIDGE DIVE AND SURF BOATS.

Here's a change from war news; a high dive from the Bridge at Melbourne, part of a Learn-to-~~Dive~~ <sup>- Swim</sup> Campaign. And here is one of the famous beaches with the familiar rolling breakers. It's a great sight - but <sup>to-day</sup> there aren't so many of those brawny fellows to man the boats - they're mostly busy elsewhere.

ICE RINK.

Carnival on the ice at Madison Square Garden, New York: an attractive sport that always looks much easier than it is. Its quite hard enough to stand up on the ice <sup>anyway!</sup> without supporting a plump young woman. And the show closes with the usual attractive ballet - the afternoon of a fawn under <sup>a</sup> mosquito net.

A.T.S.

The A.T.S. are in Battle Dress. Girls are going to help the anti-aircraft batteries in their important work - finding the target on the complicated range-finders and XM predictors. It's highly skilled work - it needs quite a bit of knowledge of mathematics and it's all-important to the accuracy of the guns.
