

QUEEN.

Her Majesty the Queen paid a visit of inspection to a regiment of which she is Hon. Colonel in Chief --- the Queen's Bays. ~~Formerly they were the~~ ^{They are} Dragoon Guards, but now their horses have been replaced by tanks. But ~~the~~ ⁱⁿ spirit ~~of the~~ ⁱⁿ modern cavalry retains all the dash of the old ~~ICELAND.~~

Here is a story from Iceland --- taken on board one of the ships carrying reinforcements of the R.A.F. to their important outpost in the Atlantic. In Reykjaick our cameraman met the survivors of a ship which had been torpedoed --- they had covered over ~~three thousand~~ ³⁰⁰ miles on a raft keeping the log by means of notches on a stick.

This was the rapidly made it is just one more story of gallantry & endurance in a war that has produced heroes from every

BALLOON W.A.A.F.S. Our Roving Cameraman called in at a balloon barrage station where the personnel is composed of W.A.A.F.S. This important job is being taken over more and more by women who can thus release men for the fighting end of the service. The balloon barrage units need more girl recruits; ~~they~~ ^{with} ~~might stand a better chance of getting them if they could~~ ^{Phf.} ~~give them more attractive overalls.~~

if the job makes every body work as cheerful as these girls it ought to be easy.
