

865 4.20. P.M.
17/4/42 M. Hagg.

X WOUNDED IN CAIRO.

Just a reminder that the men who are wounded in battles in the Middle East are being well looked after. Apart from the good work they do on duty in the hospitals, our nursing sisters are never too tired to take them out for a spell by the banks of the River Nile. After the parched heat of the desert, this is a contrast that is the next best thing to home.

ARMY PUSHBALL.

This is just a game they play in the American Army when they're off duty. Thousands of people can play in the same game with only one ball --- it's a kind of Austerity Soccer. It'd even be worth the extra tax to see George Allison do this. BRAZIL'S ARMED FORCES.

Events move so fast in this war, no one can tell when even South America might get dragged in. Here is a glimpse of the armed forces of Brazil. Since that country of the Amazon broke off relations with the Axis, U-Boats have been sinking Brazilian ships. But all the Americas will stand together against Germany --- and her so-called friends.