

OLD SUBMARINES FOR SCRAP.

Six submarines that have seen service for many years in many waters-- They have arrived at Philadelphia Navy Yard for breaking up.

Their last station will be up the Delaware River where they will yield a goodly supply of metal for scrap.

Every ship has it's day , and these old warriors have put in many an hour of useful service for Uncle Sam's Navy.

~~It's sad to say good-bye, -- but the old order changeth, giving place to new.~~
