The Prime Minister had a triumphal ~~entry~~ through the streets when he visited Bradford to inspect that great city's war work. He was accompanied by Mr. Bevin and the Air Minister and by Mrs. Churchill and their daughter in the A.T.S. --- Second Subaltern Mary Churchill. Mr. Churchill spoke from the Town Hall about the recent Allied victories.

We have received from North Africa a further series of pictures in this pattern of success. The occupation of Bougie, 110 miles east of Algiers. The approach by sea and the scores of little landing-craft going in to shore.

~~xxxxxxx~~ Further pictures show the North African aerodromes at points along the coast; some of them had to be taken by force and here the newly-formed R.A.F. Regiment did good work. A familiar figure here is the Premier's son, Captain Randolph Churchill.

Prisoners from the German Air Force are to be seen in considerable numbers in Algiers; they are being transferred by sea to a place of greater security. There were also Italian Army, Navy and Air Force prisoners.
