A NEW SIKORSKY HELICOPTER.

The latest in flying gadgets --- the Sikorsky Helicopter. A direct-lift machine that can take off or set down vertically, on either land or water. It'll turn round on a penny, and can be parked in the space that a rain puddle usually takes.

^{It}~~They~~ costs $200 dollars and you can learn to fly this amazing thing in a couple of hours.

So that's the way to travel from a nice home in the country hundreds of miles away to work in the city.

~~and~~ Don't forget, first come-- first served-- but a little thing like this is worth waiting for.
