FORTRESSES BOMB NAZIS IN NORWAY.

Clouds over the North Sea partly hide a force of Flying Fortresses on a mission to German-occupied Norway; the first country in Europe to be taken by assault in 1940 is still held in bondage --- and we still bomb the invaders. Far below, on the sea, an enemy ~~battleship~~ warship sends up flak at the passing bombers, and they approach the target with their bomb load --- to put another spoke in the wheel of the Nazi war machine.
