

WOUNDED IN SICILY

Battle casualties from the Mediterranean War Zone --- from evacuation hospitals in Sicily, some of the wounded from Italy take ship for North Africa, and may be home. Not the least of the benefits gained by the victories in the Mediterranean is the greater degree of safety for the evacuation of wounded. ~~If they can receive immediate attention under proper conditions it is half the battle of complete recovery.~~

NORMANDIE.

We've followed the liner Normandie all along the road of her chequered career from the day she was launched, so here she is being handed over to the New York Navy Yard by the supervisor of Salvage.

PIKE'S PEAK.

Every year in peace time there used to be a motor car climb up Pike's Peak in Colorado. Now, like everything else, it's all different and they've turned it into a training test for the good old Army mule. The mule-train takes two and a half days to get to the summit, loaded with guns, ammunition and camping equipment.
