

2013

Virginia - where at the ^{U.S.} Naval Research Station, Ordnance experts check shells and projectiles before they're tested on the firing range.

The muzzle velocity, accuracy, and penetrative power of each shell is measured, while the rocket railway ~~tests~~ ^{tests ~~the~~ ~~the~~ ~~missiles~~} at supersonic speeds.

Steel Exhibition

London - where the ~~Minister of Works~~ ^{Minister of Works, the Rt. Hon. David Eccles,} opened an Exhibition, sponsored by the British Steel Founders Association. The idea is to promote a closer link between the steel-maker and his customer, thereby ensuring a higher standard of service, in one of Britain's most vital industries.

Rugby League

Paris - where France kicked off against England in a Rugby League International; ~~was~~ only desperate defence saved England on this occasion; but they weathered the ~~storm~~ ^{storm}. Greenall scored ~~the~~ ^{the} England's first try, and they won a close game by fifteen points to thirteen.

Shipway aground

North Wales - where H.M.S. Conway, the 114 year-old wooden training ship, ran aground near the Menai Suspension Bridge, while on her way to Birkenhead for a re-fit.

~~This 92-gun ship of the line survived the Crimean War, and countless Naval actions. Now she faces a battle for survival against time and tide...~~

This 92-gun "ship of the line" fought in the Crimean War and ^{many} ~~other~~ other Naval actions. But now ^{unhappily,} she has lost her last battle for survival and has been declared a total loss.