Wounded return from Korea-

2054

Sept 8th. 153.

Touching down at Lyncham airfield- a Hastings transport planebrings home from Korea another detachment of British Prisoners-of-War. They're men of the Royal Ulster Rifles- some of whom are stretcher cases- And anxious relatives scan the faces of their dear ones, as they're carried to waiting ambulances

Bernard Murphy of Liverpool

And on behalf of their C.O., Major Sir Christopher Nixon Far Eastern welcomes the men who have come through the bitter/campaign-

Rifleman Hames Conner of Belfast ---

L/Corporal Massey from Dublin-

L/Corporal Jack Spense of Ballycastle-

Rifleman Sullivan from Katigaraa County Cork, and Joe Waide of Ballymena.

It's the pappiest day of their lives.
