Britannia Shield Boxing at Wembley

Britannia Shield Boxing at Wembley; the annual contest thet roumemorates the spirit of comradeship of the Allies during the Battle of Britain.... And Bantamweight Corporal Lewis of the R.A.F. beats Private Hellebuych of Belgium - on points

(2073

12th Nov. 53

In the Lightweight Final - Airman Hornsby (U.S. Forces in Europe) met Soon Private J. Vouvrie of the Netherlands. But the Dutchman/feels the heavy HAND with of comradeship - and the Referee the fight in the first round The Bout of the evening was in the Middleweight class - and what a battle, between A.C.2 Phillips of the R.A.F. and Airman J. Palmer - a coloured Maerican fighter. /There's one thing about this kind of comradeship - they certainly learn how to give and take

And After three hectic rounds - Phillips won on points - one of the R.A.F.s six Final winners

The overall result of the contest was a third successive victory for the R.A.F. - who received the Britannia Shield from General Norstad - of the U.S. Air Force