

Lord Mayor in Paris

Paris - where arriving at the Elysee Palace, the Lord Mayor, Sir Noel Bowater, headed a delegation from the City of London, which visited the French Capital.

After signing the Golden Book - (a privilege reserved for distinguished guests), the Lord Mayor was received by M. Coty, the new President.

A goodwill visit furthering the friendship between the two Capitals.

Panama

Panama - where planes of the U.S. Air Force are on show to thousands of eager sightseers, during a thirty day tour of the Latin-American countries. All eyes on those sleek-lined jets, as they fly over in close formation in a farewell salute. An aerial armada - making its first good-will visit to ~~AMERICAN~~ South America since the war.

New York motor show

New York - where, at the International Motor Show, a new German model ~~solves~~ solves a pressing problem for tubby motorists, with this adjustable steering wheel.

Another car ^{with} ~~embracing~~ unusual features is the "Bat". A car of the future, it's worth more than a second glance, it's worth a fortune.

A new American design (with a body styled in Italy for elegance and comfort) called the Italia. A Latin beauty - that brings the challenge of Europe to American markets.

Premier St. Laurent in Rome

Rome - where, continuing his world tour, Canada's Prime Minister, Mr St. Laurent looks around the famous Square of St. Peter's, after visiting the Vatican City.

During his tour of ~~Italy~~, the Premier called on the Mayor of Rome - who presented him with a silver statue of ^{the} a "She-Wolf" - ~~the~~ which is said to have suckled Romulus and Remus, the founders of the City.
