Boxing in Germany

Berlin: Scotland's middleweight Champion, Willie Armstrong, found life full of ups and downs when he met Gustav Scholz of Germany (wearing light trunks), in a ten-round contest.

The Scottish boy soon discovered that the German's record of 27 K.O. victories was not based on powder-puff hitting.

In a daze - Willie didn't know whether to get up or stay down.

~~In contrast - Scholz wanted to get on, but the referee wanted to finish his count.~~

Now Willie <sup>tries</sup> ~~now trying~~ to slog his way out of trouble. Scholz meets him half-way - <sup>and</sup> ~~then~~ they both meet the floor.

Armstrong rushes Scholz to the ropes. Scholz dances clear - then dances in - Armstrong goes down.

Willie finds an opening at last - <sup>but</sup> ~~then~~ the referee stops the fight, in favour of Scholz - his 55th fight without defeat.
