

Malayan High Commissioner

~~The Federation of Malaya:~~ On <sup>a</sup> recent visit to the Headquarters of the First Battalion, <sup>the</sup> Fiji Infantry Regiment, Sir Donald MacGillivray, the High Commissioner, was presented with a whale's tooth - the highest mark of respect that can be bestowed upon a foreigner.

Then the Fijian warriors prepared the, <sup>Sacred drink -</sup> "Kava" - (the ~~sacred drink, made from the root of the Yagone plant~~) which was offered to the High Commissioner. /

The Fijian Regiment has served with distinction during the <sup>Malaya</sup> emergency, ~~in Malaya~~ and watched by their Commanding Officer - Sir Donald was honoured by the first cup of "kava". /

Car Race

South China: In <sup>191</sup> "Le Mans" style, fifteen starters get away in the Inaugural Macao Grand Prix, the first organised car race on the China Coast.

The two-hundred mile race was run over the Gua circuit, and over ten thousand people (including the Governor of this tiny Portuguese possession) watched the amateur drivers make sporting history. 2

And here comes the winner - Eduardo Carvalho - driving a Triumph - the ~~holder~~ holder

~~first proud holder of the Governor's Trophy~~ first proud holder of the Governor's Trophy. /

London water-skiing

London: Now don't get ideas that this is a new winter sport on the River Thames or the answer to rush-hour travel in the Capital. That determined character is Sandy Redclyffe - ~~trying~~ trying to water-ski his way from Westminster Pier to Putney Bridge to win a £25 bet.

The first attempt ended in a ducking. But Sandy tried again - and finally reached Putney - to win his watery wager. /
