

News flashes

The Baltic Exchange

London: Sir Winston Churchill, ~~himself a honorary member~~, visited the Baltic Exchange in ~~St. Mary's~~ <sup>(St. Mary's which he is an honorary member)</sup> to lay the foundation stone of the new extension. The Exchange, founded in the 18th century, covers the purchase and sale of all cereals.

The Prime Minister was well qualified for the job - he holds a Trade Union ticket as a bricklayer / SOUND.

Paris Shopping

Paris: Shopping time for Spring and Summer outfits. Those ~~Gay~~ <sup>like those</sup> dresses of printed cotton, made fashionable by Princess Margaret during her tour. Designed by Carven, this two-piece suit and overcoat introduces the "slim and supple" look.

Another charming two-piece ~~suit~~ in white and blue printed cotton - to match the fairest skin and the bluest sky. / S

Then - when evening comes - this embroidered organza gown, ~~patterned~~ <sup>patterned</sup> with flowers, is ready for that gala occasion. /

atom bomb

~~Yucca Flats~~ <sup>and</sup> Nevada, the deserted testing-ground <sup>of Yucca Flats awaits</sup> for a new series of atomic explosions - filmed eight miles away. / K
Under the codeword "Operation Teapot" - over a thousand servicemen were massed fairly close to the blast-centre, as research continues for <sup>new</sup> atomic weapons ~~that can be~~ <sup>used in the field...</sup> /
~~taxi~~ <sup>for ground forces.</sup>

Car racing

Florida: Car-racing on the famous beach track - and though there's plenty of sand - that doesn't stop them from skidding and crashing. /
Then ~~came~~ tragedy... a four-car pile-up. One driver had flirted with death once too often..... He died ~~ix~~ of his injuries. /