

TABLE TENNIS

In The Empire Pool Wembley. On the right of the picture are those famous tins, World Champions Dianne and Rosalind Rowe defending their English Doubles Title against Ann Hayden and Jean Winn. Now at the far end, the Rowe twins won their first two games at 21-19 and 21-11. ^{MATCH AND} ~~and the match and~~ the title were clinched to the Rowe twins (BRING UP)

TEST CRICKETERS

At London Airport --- arriving back after their successful tour, are members of the England cricket team that confounded the pessimists, and kept the Ashes from Australia. The picture is not quite complete, because Captain Len Hutton and Godfrey Evans were following on by boat; but to all of them we say --- Congratulations! (BRING UP)

SHIP COLLISION

In Southampton ^{Water -} ~~Water~~ beached on a mudbank, ~~is Southampton Water~~ --- the Italian freighter, Valentine Ribolini. She has a twenty-foot hole in her port side. During a fog, she had collided with the British tanker, Alva Star (BRING UP)

HELICOPTER STEEPLEJACK

At Zurich --- yet one more job has been found for the helicopter --- maid-of-all-work of the skies. The flying steeplejack was called in to put the finishing touch to a church spire (BRING UP)