

Japan: Fishermen Protest~~Tokyo: Angry~~

Tokyo: Angry Japanese fishermen gathered around the Korean Diplomatic Mission to protest against their exclusion from international fishing-grounds.

The fishermen's spokesman
~~Representatives of the fishermen~~ stated their case to the diplomats - explaining how the ~~recent~~ extension of territorial waters by Korea - had taken in one of the richest fishing-grounds in the area.

In addition, the Korean Navy's orders of "Shoot to sink" have not exactly helped a difficult situation.

Riots

Germany: A violent clash between Communist demonstrators and the West Berlin ~~German~~ Police ~~the~~ the sequel to an attempt by the rioters to break-up ~~a~~ ^{Reunion} ~~Reunion~~ of German War Veterans in the Capital.

Over 350 Communists were arrested - many of them having to be manhandled into waiting police-vans.

The story ends on a note of grim humour; ~~the~~, fearing the attack, the Reunion had been cancelled.

Pakistan Admiral in Britain

At his London house, the First Sea Lord, Admiral Earl Mountbatten, welcomed to Britain, Rear-Admiral Choudri - Commander-in-Chief of the Royal Pakistan Navy.

The visit follows those made in recent months by other Commonwealth Naval Chiefs, and, (as Admiral Choudri recalls) ^{it} revives a wartime memory.

SOUND.
