

Olympic FlameROME

~~Italy:~~ From the ancient ruins of the Temple of Jupiter, ~~the flame~~
~~the Mayor of Rome~~ ^{COMES} brings a fiery ^{BOWL} tripod. This was the opening ceremony of the Seventh Winter Olympics - for as the winged heralds of goodwill were released - the Mayor ^{of Rome} kindled the traditional torch. ~~With~~ ^{At} solemn ceremony, the Flame was handed to Adolfo Consolini, the ~~1952~~ ¹⁹⁵⁶ Discus Champion - to begin its journey to Cortina, ~~in the Dolomites~~. There, the flame will burn throughout the Games, ~~the~~ the age-old symbol of the Olympics and their ideals...

Plane

Boscombe Down: About to make its first flight is the prototype of ~~British~~ Britain's newest fighter - the Vickers Supermarine N. 113. Scheduled for the Navy, the ~~new~~ ^{new aircraft} is powered by two turbo-jet engines and will be equipped to carry guided missiles as well as conventional armament.

U.S. Tanker ablaze

~~America:~~ After a night explosion had ripped her asunder on Lake Charles, Louisiana, the tanker ~~Salem~~ "Salem Maritime" is enveloped in flames and smoke...

Outward bound for Norfolk, Virginia - she had aboard a highly-inflammable cargo of petroleum and kerosene. Three of her crew perished - while more than twenty are still missing - victims of a ~~mystery~~ ^{Trory} mystery fire.

Brighton

Sussex: Wild waves on a wintery shore, and the sea temperature only ten degrees above freezing. That was the frosty greeting for Mr Ernie Trory - playing host to all-weather swimming friends at his birthday party at Brighton. ~~enthusiasts~~...

~~There~~ ^{super handy folk} ~~the enthusiasts~~ then enjoyed an al fresco snack and pretty fresh it was! However, Mr Trory was warmed inwardly by many friendly toasts - and his guests by the hot-dogs...