

Orly crash

France: The shattered remains of a modern airliner lie scattered around the runway at Orly Airport, near Paris.

Coming into land, during fog, after a flight from Tunis, the plane — (carrying sixty-six passengers and crew) hit the ground with terrific impact - and completely disignstated.

no one was killed in the crash - though one passenger died later, in hospital.

And from a Paris suburb comes news in happier vain, as tretting mentions champions go into action in the Prix d'Amerique.

Following them round, the cemera catches the graceful style of the seventeen runners, that included the champions of Sweden and Italy.

Last year's winner, Gelinotte conceded twenty-five yards on handicap - yet there she is - disputing the lead with Hatik.

But the game mare draws away to win in record time. Her forty-sixth victory - and she now tops over £70,000 in prize money.

Britannia

London Airport: Another landmark in British Civil Aviation as the new "Bristol "Britannia" turbo-prop airliner enters commercial passenger service with B.O.A.C. WIN A FALLUELL WAVE FROM CAPTAIN TAYLOR SIZE S all ready to fly to Johannesburg in less than twenty-three hours.

The world's most advanced turbo-prop airliner writes a new chapter in aviation history...