

News from America: During his stay in Washington, King Saud visited the Welter Reed Hospital. After ~~undergoing~~ an eye examination, the Middle East Ruler heard some good news about his three year-old son, Prince Mashhur, who is receiving treatment for partial paralysis.

As an expression of gratitude, King Saud is to make an annual donation to the hospital.

Near Los Angeles, a transport plane and a jet fighter collided in mid-air - then crashed on children in a school playground. ~~the preceding~~

~~the preceding~~ eight children were killed and 77 injured. Disaster, too, in snow-bound New York, when an airliner crashed on Rikers Island - seconds after take-off, and was burnt out.

The airliner was heading for Florida ~~and~~ sunshine - and over twenty perished in this New York blizzard.

And there was sunshine in Florida, ~~the~~ as thirty-three yachts set out from Miami Beach to race for the Lipton Cup.

It was a handicap-race over thirty-one miles; but the sixty foot cutter "Mogu" started from scratch, and carried off the trophy.

From age-old grace and beauty to an unsightly brain-child of the 20th century. It's a one-man rocket-helicopter making its first flight at Philadelphia...

With fuel tanks situated next to the pilot, the craft is powered by rocket motors on its rotary blades. And though it may look ungainly - it's flight is effortless.

Heading the news from Europe was the visit to ~~S.H.A.P.E. Headquarters,~~ of Earl Mountbatten of Burma. to S.H.A.P.E. Headquarters, near Paris. The First Sea Lord was paying a courtesy call upon General ~~Mark~~ <sup>Norstad</sup>

~~Supreme Commander Allied Forces in Europe~~ <sup>Commander</sup> for the first time since ~~the~~ <sup>who</sup> ~~letter~~ succeeded General Gruenther as Supreme ~~Commander~~ Allied Forces in Europe.