

Yugoslavia: On Belgrade Airport - Marshal Tito warmly welcomed another ~~independent~~ ^{to-winded} Communist leader - Mr Gomulka - the Polish First Secretary.

Mr Gomulka is leading a top-level delegation (~~that includes the Premier~~ ^{including Poland's} Mr Cyrankiewicz) on a seven day official visit. ~~for talks with the President.~~ ^{down}

That same evening - at his White Palace, President Tito ~~hosted~~ ^{entertained} the Polish leaders who, like himself - are determined to take the ~~road~~ independent path to National Communism.

Helicopter

America: have you ever wished you could fly home from work? Then meet Californian business-man Ray Nichols. He ~~travels~~ ^{goes} by helicopter - landing on his steel-framed roof - the perfect answer to rush-hour travel.

Having dropped ~~in~~ - let's look around. ~~With a view~~, Mr Nichols has a view from every room. But best of all - it only minutes from the office.

Old People's Coach

Hendon: Outside the Town Hall, a gleaming red coach becomes the new treasure of the Hendon Old People's Welfare Committee - the first fruits of Mrs Gerald Legge's fund to provide comforts for the aged. Christened "Polly" after Mrs Legge's famous grandmother - the coach will take old people for country rides.

Atlantic City

Atlantic City: Forty-eight lovelies - one from every State. Yes, ~~you've~~ ^{But wait a minute.} you've guessed it. ² And here's the 1957 "Miss America". ~~She's~~. Not so loud - she doesn't know yet!

Climax of the week-long festivities - the girls parade for the judges - ~~the girls parade for the judges~~

And it's O.K. now - the secret's out. Miss Colorado, twenty year-old Marilyn Elaine van Darbur, becomes America's Queen of Beauty.
