

The Only German that got away

2481

11th October 1957

~~London Airport~~ London Airport provides a peace-time background to an amazing escape drama of World War Two.

AN ARRIVAL

~~Barbara~~ was Frau von Werra - widow of the only German prisoner to escape and return to Germany - after being <sup>CAPTIVE</sup> ~~held~~ in Britain.

This unique escape is the subject of a thrilling British film, and arriving for the London premiere is film star Stanley Baker.

Invitations were also extended to famous Britons who escaped from Germany. Major Reid (who got away from Colditz Castle), ~~3~~

A member of the RAF Escaping Society, Wing Commander Baker, and Mrs Baker Group Captain Day - who escaped from no less than eight German camps, and was punished by six months solitary confinement in Dachau concentration camp.

Two more "escape" heroes - Flight-Lt. Russell - and a Royal Naval Officer - Dr. Kelleher...

~~It says much for the British~~ <sup>BRITISH</sup> officers and men escaped from Western Europe. The only German that got away is <sup>BRITISH</sup> ~~portrayed~~ <sup>PORTRAYED</sup> in the film by Hardy Kruger. - ~~power~~ <sup>(power)</sup>

A peace-time meeting. Frau von Werra talks to the man who relives her husband's amazing adventures ~~power~~ - in a thrilling British picture