News highlights (Continued)

New factory

Susser: Holding the industrial spotlight, Madame Markova , the famous Prima Ballerina opens a new underwear factory at Portslade, near Brighton. Built by a world-renowned bingeric concern, the factory (the ninth to be opened in Britain) overs 38,000 square fact and will provide work for 650 employees.

0

To celebrate the opening, the firm's products were featured in a fashion display - with local girls demonstrating their work in a model way...

Washington: An informal slant on world problems was the outcome of a visit by Mr Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign Minister, to the home of America's Secretary of State, Mr Dulles.

During their talk - the statesmen of East and West exchanged views on the Middle East, Disarmament and the European situation. From America, too, comes man news of how mechanication is benafitting another branch of the U.S. Army.- A demonstration of automatic mine-layers.

These actual field operations shows the Sapper's best friend - an automatic mine planter ...

The planter is towed by a bulldozer, specially constructed to die the hole - and then replaces the turf after the mine is laid. No more back-aches for the Engineers.

Racing

France: Manual And France Company (including the young Aga Khan) settled down to watch the Grand Prix de l'-Arc de Triomphe , Surpers Tichest race.

Among the field of 24 were top stars from Britain, Ireland and America. But only the bookies enjoyed the birthday. The winner was Aroso - a fifty-two to one outsider...