The Queen in French-Canada-

Oct 18th. '57.

Nowhere in Canada was there a more spontaneous welcome for the Queen and Prince Philip than in the French-speaking city of Hull. The climax of a triumphal drive came at Hurdman's Bridge, wakare where Her Majesty was to open a magnificent new highway.

2423

By pressing a button which set off a set dynamite explosion, the Queen of Canada officially inaugurated the four-lane road.

Proudly named the "Queensway"- the road is part of the Trans-Canada Highlongst in the world's world. -waywhich, when completed, will be one of the world's longest . The successful Royal launching of a vast enterprise which will greatly xm relieve traffic congestion in Ottawa. The climax of four wonderful days: the rousing cheers of 20,000 Children voiced Canada 's farewell to the Queen and Prince Philip. The visit was made, during the drive to the Airport - so the children reserved a final salute for the Queen of Canada... On the airport was the Governor-General, Mr Massey - who had led the Dominion's welcome. Now - he offered a Thank You and God-Speed to the Extinct Sovereign Lady who had reminded Canada that she was proud to be...

073 2483

18th October 1957

SOUND.

their Queen journey

S.A. Hails the Queen

The flight across the border, to Williamsburg, was yet another Royal tribute - the first flight by a Reigning Monarch in a Canadian Air Force plane.

So - at Patrick Henry Airport, Virginia, the Queen set foot on soil - where secce one branch of the British family took root, 350 years ago. To-day, the sapling has become a giant in stature...the United States welcomes the Queen.

After greetings

The Royal Couple had gone to Virginia to visit the Festival, marking the 350th anniversary of the first English settlement, at Jamestown. The Queen (wearing a loose satin coat of peacock blue) was escorted by the Governor, Mr Stanley.

AND the Governor official welcome to Virginia

After an enjoyable tour of the festival grounds which reproduces his the life that faced those early British pioneers is set to be Royal visitors drove to the Governor's Palace. The Queen Mother had travelled in similar style - during her visit, three years ago...

At the Governor's Palace, the Queen and the Duke joined a garden party given in their honour. Here, they mingled with many descendants of these "Ac mark wooded" of pieces who forged the first links of Anglo-American friendship. Another reminder of her Mother's visit came when the Queen and the Duke arrived at the historic Williamsburg Inn - where they occupded the threeroom suite reserved for Royal Visitors to this former British Colony. Sheet Two

The Royal Day at Williamsburg paved the way for one of the greatest receptions Washington has ever known ...

103

Figure , President Eisenhower had sent his own four-engined plane - the silver "Columbine" to bring his Royal guests from Virginia Tre a gasp of admiration greeted the appearance of the Queen ... followed by Prince Philip while President Eisenhower extended a touching, almost fatherly welcome .. The Queen (wearing a striking ensemble of paramete electric blue) was the centre of all eyes - while the bands the National Anthems - augmented by a twenty-one gun salute. SOUND Then, the President stressed the significance of the Royal Visit during these trouble times SOUND the Gartal, And signifying the Commissioner McLaughlin presented the key to the City SOUND Again, the President's fatherly concern was to be seen - as he helped the Queen into the waiting car - for the Ceremonial Drive to the White House, So, having surrendered its key - Washington now offered its heart as thousands lined the minimum sidewalks - cheering the Royal Visitors, Even the White House became a the home from home when Mrs Eisenhower OFFELED a friendly, informal greeting ... So, for four days, the Queen reigns in Washington. Not by Constitution

but by popular consent. A charming Ambassador strengthening the