Eisenhower family celebrates

31st December 1957

Washington: With the President enjoying a brief holiday from world affairs, the Eisenhower family captured the festive mood in the White House.

The President and his wife shared the joyous season with their four grandchildren. A happy ~~family~~ gathering to ~~see the President~~ ^{SUSTAIN THE MAN} ~~who bears the tremendous burden of~~ ^{the Presidency} ~~dedicated task of striving for lasting peace on earth~~

New airliner

All set for its maiden flight is the giant Boeing Stratoliner - America's first commercial jet transport. The ~~jets~~ jets are muzzled by noise-suppressors as twelve months of rigorous flight-testing precedes airline service...

An interesting comparison. The Comet, (Britain's first pure-jet transport) made its first commercial flight well over five years ago.

French air-craft carrier

~~FRANCE!~~ ^{at Brest} ~~Brest:~~ Launching ceremony for a 22, 000 ton aircraft carrier- the biggest warship to be built in France since 1939...

In the presence of Michel Clemenceau, son of the famous Prime Minister, the vessel was named "Clemenceau". Fitted with every modern flying aid - the carrier will house sixty planes; fighters, bombers and anti-submarine aircraft.

Winter Sales

Though the Seven per cent Bank Rate is getting a stranglehold on inflation - a woman and her bargain are not easily parted. So the early-birds swoop on those Winter Sales: and though they spend a lot, they all firmly maintain that they're really saving money...

Eager to share this secret, the men join in, ~~but not~~ ^{let's} hope they'll save enough to pay ~~them~~ those January bills.
