

At Burnden Park, an encouraging home roar for Bolton Wanderers, faced with the toughest task in the Mixth Round Cup battles.

The visitors are the mighty Wolves - favourites for the Cup and League.

It's 56 years since the last cup-battle between these soccer Wanderers...

and Bolton (in white shirts) make the early running. Ray Parry shoots....

Oh: It's just wide.

Now the Wolves unleash the terrific power that has made them League leaders. Murry smacks the ball against the Bolton cross-bar Just as it seems that the Wolves againing control, Nat Lofthouse inspires a Bolton goal-raid.... And Stevens bangs the ball home This set-back was enough to spur the Wolves into almost continuous attack.

In this form - no defence can hold these marging Wolves And here it comes - Mason heads home the equaliser

From now until half-time, the Wolves mass round the Bolton citadel a foretaste of the thrills that were to be the second wild with excitement...

But just as quickly the pendulum swings. A long ball puts Nat Lofthouse through. Finlayson goes down: a courageous dive that finishes outside the his area...

A freekick for Bolton, and ANO PARTY gally chips the ball home.

Bolton Two. Wolves One Ten minutes from time, goal hero Ray Parry is carried off...
