News highlights

25th April 1958

St. George 's Day

St. George for England: once the proud rellying cry of crusading knights. Yet how many of us remembered England's National Day? Well, Many did parade.

was forged to "ensure that the engiversary is properly conducted" The Duke of Devonshire, the President, laid a wreath on the Cenotaph. It was also Shakespeare's birthday and the 40th anniversary of the Zachrus Zeebrugge raid.

Oregon (suggest Western seyler

America: The modern version of riding the Oregon trail: a rubber raft on the roaring rapids. When the trail ends its heads down: bottoms up. And a low-down dive is a ducking in the Mackenzie river. It's the annual White Water Boat Parade. No one quite knows how it started or where it ends. Looks like we're heading back home, partner Bathing beauties

London: Summer is a cumen in - or portions we're cuchoo! Twenty five bathing beauties in April. An early start perhaps: but they're competing for the title "Miss England" nen There were Some leading journalists on the judging panel - so the winner makin could be sure of h - headlines. The gents dreplazes every vital statistic except a birth certificate. So they elected sixteen year old June Cooper of Sheffield -Miss England 1958. her Then they tried to tell used the was too young - too young to another be "Miss England 1958"