

Princess Margaret

visited British Guiana &

~~Continuing~~ <sup>At the end of</sup> her tour of the West Indies, Princess Margaret was warmly greeted by the Governor, ~~on arrival~~ <sup>when she arrived</sup> in British Guiana.

She made

The trip to Georgetown, the capital, took two hours, ~~and was made by~~ <sup>gave a delighted welcome to</sup> a river steamer. Cheering crowds ~~greeted the Royal traveller, acclaiming~~ <sup>their</sup>

~~her as the~~ "Calypso Princess!"

~~Then she drove to~~ <sup>500 ft</sup>

A ceremonial drive was made to Governor House - where ~~the Princess stayed~~ <sup>she</sup> stayed during her three-day visit as guest of the Governor, Sir Patrick Renison.

A parade of trade and industry was held <sup>In</sup> honour of the ~~Royal Guest~~ <sup>Princess</sup> -

~~a parade of Trade & Industry was~~ <sup>staged - but in British Guiana</sup> who looked cool and radiant in a pale yellow dress

~~a program of the kind~~ <sup>Music, Comedy, Carnival - The lot!</sup>

One banner, displaying its "divided loyalties" caused much amusement.

~~Though life has brought many changes to British Guiana~~

A glimpse of ancient Egypt, <sup>(West Indian style)</sup> rounded off a ~~spectacular~~ <sup>glam</sup> parade to honour the "sunshine Princess" ~~who was visiting British~~ <sup>undoubtedly remember too & long time!</sup>

~~Guiana for the first time.~~

Polaris

America: A dry-land launching test for the "Polaris" the nuclear missile designed to be fired <sup>under the sea</sup> from submarines. On this trial - a dummy missile was used ~~constructed from heavy~~ <sup>made of</sup> concrete and steel and loaded with recording <sup>gear</sup> instruments.

~~To cut down~~ <sup>To save money,</sup> development costs, the Polaris is equipped with a marker buoy, ~~It can then be salvaged for repeated tests.~~ <sup>so that it can</sup> ~~The~~ <sup>missile which has a</sup> 1,500 mile ~~range.~~ <sup>mark</sup> ~~It~~ <sup>The</sup> has already been ~~tried~~ <sup>tried</sup> ~~underwater,~~ <sup>underwater,</sup> off California...

trial out underwater. →