

Apart from the Children's Pony Classes, it was jumping all the way at this year's Brighton Horse Show.

Alan Oliver were there - riding Red Link, and back a gain after injury came several of Britain's other top show-jumping stars.

Ted Williams - back in the saddle again - after that heavy fall at Aachen. Ted was a member of the triumphant team that toured North America last winter.

In the aptly-named "Welcome Stakes" Peter Robeson scores a well-earned success on Ballymullan.

Ted Williams on "Yorkshireman" was second with seven faults.

~~Lady Sarah Fitzalan~~

Lady Sarah Fitzalan Howard (daughter of the Duke of Norfolk) represents Britain ~~in~~ in the European Junior Championships, this month. The Duke himself was at Brighton and gave a warm "welcome back" to Pat Smythe who was riding his horse, "Tonada" when she was injured at Loughborough.

Britain's "First Lady of the Saddle" showed she had lost none of her confidence or skill. She rode "Flanagan" to victory in the Ladies Championship - then switching to Mr. Pollard she won second place as well..
