

Brighton

Start people on a road race in hendon and its 10 to 1

Want to get to Brighton? It's easy, any one of a dozen ways. This way if you're tough enough, just join in a London to Brighton walking race..... Others who think there are no cars like old cars turn Or if Shanks is too much of a good thing, a couple of gallons, out in their old creaks some old clothes and an old creak go well together.....

But some people prefer to Perhaps you'd rather do it in style, with dignity. Ah, they certainly had something in the old days..... And the modern coach has something too - but its different. These days though it's standing room only, all crammed into the old coaches - Cor luv us mum I can't breathe!.....

For sheer guts this bunch take some beating. Off to Brighton for a rally, riding in invalid tricycles.....

Now for a new way. By 'small boy type' scooter. But the Husky university students from Southampton, Cardiff, Bristol, Reading and London who took the reverse route from Brighton to hendon aren't Universities who thought of it, can do it all themselves - even if likely to set a fashion it is for a good cause.....

01, none of that. Who said it was a relay race?..... And if you're wondering why they picked this method of doubtful progress foot-flogging, paw-pounding way to Brighton, it's a gag, all planned to raise money to help cancer victims.....

Of course if you want to go to Brighton there's always the train. But I like to get my Brighton feet and comfortably and the 'Brighton Belle', anyway, is celebrating its 50th birthday this year. Yes, since 1908 she's been running regular as clockwork from Victoria to Brighton, 60 miles in 1 hour - And thats no better and no worse than 50 years ago.....
