MR. CHURCHILL IN CANADA... FIRST PICTURES.

To the historic Citadel of Quebec comes Britain's fighting Premier for important military conferences with United Nations leaders. Fast moving events are expected as an outcome of this latest transatlantic visit. Canada's Prime Minister, Mr. MacKenzie King welcomed Mr. Churchill who had with him on this momentous journey, his wife and Subaltern Mary Churchill.

The Chateau Frontenac, situated against the historic heights of Abraham, becomes the meeting place for British, Canadian and American Staff conferences. Mr. Churchill arrived in the courtyard of the hotel with Mr. MacKenzie King and Sir John Anderson. Canadian and British Chiefs of Staff were assembling with the many important Ministers of the two countries meeting in joint council.

Mrs. Churchill's presence in Canada has been greatly welcomed. Her untiring efforts on behalf of British and Allied causes have endeared her to the people.

On his way to meet his friend and partner President Roosevelt, the Prime Minister arrives at the United States border. New drives are already mapped to bring the Axis to the terms of Casablanca - Quebec becomes a powerhouse of Allied strength, while strange things happen afar - off in Lisbon. An Axis partner feeling for peace maybe, but there'll be no short circuiting of Unconditional Surrender!
