

RUSSIANS MEET MONTY.

After a tour of our forward positions North of the Sangre River, five Russian Army Officers visit General Montgomery to pay their compliments to the 8th Army Commander.

The tour of the Italian front had been an eye opener for the Red Army men who were generous in their praise for the way in which their Allies were meeting and surmounting the appalling weather conditions in a naturally difficult theatre of operations.

After presenting each of the Russian Officers with a tin of English Cigarettes and a lighter, Monty made tracks for a tent. Let us assume that it was just about time for a quick one.