

PATHE GAZETTE: 44/55.

SPENDING MONEY - TRAILER

Daisy and Joan have money to spare, watch the money beside them there.

See what happens to money that's spent, and what to money that's saved and lent.

We'll start with Daisy, she's fashion crazy

She squanders her money on this and that, on blouse, umbrella, bag and hat.

Joan however is much more clever, she saves her money and lends it too,

A much more sensible thing to do

And what she saves the country gains, in greater production of tanks, and planes.

If all were as selfish as Daisy appears, the war would go on for years and years.

Those like Joan who knows what's right and it won't be long till the end's in sight.

When war is over and victory won, the hat, the bag and the blouse are done,

But Joan has her loan and her interest due to buy her a house and furniture too.

Now Daisy has only a broken down brolley, even the parrot can laugh at her folly.

She should have remembered it pays to lend,

Who saved at the start and who's safe at the end.