

WOMEN'S SWIM MEET

Los Angeles, California and the fair sex is in again - only this time they're in the water. The hundred metre race is in progress and these gals certainly can move. It's a terrific race.....but if you're wise you'll put your money on the gal on the outside lane.

And here she is - The Winner. Another swimmer comes back to peacetime competition diving with a beautiful two and a half somersault.

From the low board, a superb one and a half with a full twist.

Two fallers who can't bear to be separated - a perfectly-timed tandem dive.

When these sporting interludes again become regular events in England, maybe we shall know there's a war off
