COLD SNAPPY 'AMPSTEAD

Cold snap in the South of England brings snow and the tingling exhilaration of a snow fight to the young battlers of Hampstead Heath. Direct hits don't matter when there's plenty of ammunition left to plaster the enemy. Everything winter-sportish came out. Wartime dust hadn't spoiled their skis - but the technique seems to have got a bit rusty.

Specially designed for kids, snow is a guaranteed favourite; school will have to pull hard to get 'em in on a day like this.

No sleigh bells but the budding father Christmasses slip into the fun - and the spills.

Not quite Switzerland but oh boy it's snow.
