Grock the Clown

Over in Paris, the star of the day is Grock world famous clown of pre-war days, giving his first public performance for eight years.

Last December the 67 year old Swiss born Grock refused an invitation to appear in Britain. He said he couldn't afford our income tax. In the 1920s and 30s Grock was the funny man No. 1. Today in a laughter-starved world he can still make us laugh with the jokes of yesterday.

Come swooner-crooners, come bobby-soxers the clown still has a place in everyone's heart.
