The City of Bradford celebrates its 100 th birthday. A pageant, which depicts the arrival of the first train from Leeds marks the Yorkshire city's centenary week.

Among the spectators in Peel Park is Lord Mayor Cluff. Dancers in the pageant include Bradford schoolchildren.

Still famed for its weaving products, here is Bradford combing and spinning 1350 style. Bradford travelled down the centuries to celebrate a hundred years of progress.

Liverpool's River front as it is today. Badly bombed during the war, the city architects are planning a new town. This is the planners' vision of the Liverpool of the future. Here is the new river front - the Royal Liver, Guard and Dock Building. The new flyover-crossing takes Ring Road over Scotland Road. And here is Lime Street Station - new version.

This is the Civic Centre, with Exchange Station in the foreground. Part of Liverpool's plans for tomorrow.

At Windsor thousands greet Princess Elizabeth. The Princess walks with Mayor Fussens to the platform in Home Park, where she is admitted to the honorary freedom of Windsor.

The scroll, on which the Princess signed her declaration as a Freeman, is enclosed in a casket of Windsor Oak and presented to her by the Mayor. Accepting the honour, Princess Elizabeth says:-

Italy welcomes Senora Evita Peron. Rome citizens line the streets as the 27 year old ex-film star wife of Argentine's President Juan Peron continues her European tour. While in Rome she makes a number of public appearances.

In her 82 pieces of baggage Senora Peron has 200 dresses, quite apart from coats and furs. She is the first woman in South American history to share her husband's public life. When President Peron saw her off a Buenos Aires, he said "To Europe I send the heart of the Argentine." To our Rome reporter, Senora Peron speaks of her proposed visit to Britain.

The Foreign Office have announced that Evita Peron will be a most welcome visitor to Britain.
