PEOPLE IN CAMERA

Sport

From Hong Kong to London's Stamford Bridge. That's the 10,000 mile record of the Sing Tao Football team now in Britain on a £16,000 joy ride. Known as the Tigers, they arrived for the football season. With a tour of nine matches against amateur clubs ahead, the Hong Kong footballers have brought with them half a ton of rice to eat.

In China anything can happen and if their training methods are unorthodox - who cares? They'll probably go back to Hong Kong as China's Arsenal.

Hobby

At Westminster - a show for boys of all ages. It's the 22nd Model Engineering Exhibition and this is the star item - the grand circular track. The model railway layout is operated by remote control.

400 working exhibits are on show including a "Centaur" engine model and a miniature one of the "Royal Scot." Three mast sailing boats, motor boats, they're all here in realistic setting. It's a paradise for fathers and their sons.

Models of the very latest types of aircraft are powered by miniature petrol or diesel engines. Unrehearsed crashes are all part of the show.

Exit

In Bombay, Governor-General Earl Mountbatten says "Goodbye" to the first British troops to leave India. The Mountbattens flew from New Delhi to give the 5,000 servicemen their personal farewell messages. The men were drawn from the 2nd Battalion Royal Norfolk Regiment and several R.A.F. squadrons. Lord Louis paid tribute to them.

Indian sailors were there to bring the troops farewell greetings from the new Dominion. Sikh soldiers, wartime comrades of the British forces, lined Ballard pier as the Georgis got ready to leave.

Field Marshal Auchinleck and senior Indian army officers were also at the dockside with the Governor-General. The rest of the British troops will leave India as soon as possible.
