

47/72

BRAMMAR ROYAL HIGHLAND GATHERING

In pouring rain, the King and Queen go to Brammar's Princess Royal Park for the highland gathering. Scots brawn and muscle defied the weather. For the men from the highlands, it was the day of their national sports.

Putting the 22 pound stone is 40 year old Clarke. Through it all went the drummer - and the pipes. For the finale, up came the massed bands of Dundee Police, Dundee City and Dundee McKenzie.

For Scotland, it was another Royal occasion.