

48/94

MAINLY FOR WOMEN

What'll the well-dressed woman wear next year? In London, coming Spring fashions hold the floor. Women M.Ps and fashion leaders watch a show staged primarily to affirm British supremacy in the field of synthetic-fabric design. "April" is an afternoon dress in Cyril Lord print as fresh as Spring. The new neckline has buyers and fashion experts nodding approval.

For teenagers - matching jeans and blouse.

Behind the scenes, borrowed raiments make mannequins the best-dressed women of the hour. Not a hair out of place - as the gladiators of beauty gird their armour.

From the other side of Fashion's fence, the girls who make lovely clothes look still lovelier, take the stage. This cocktail dress is a Paris style in British print. New neckline, bowed bustle taking the fullness from the skirt - are favoured Paris importations.

Finally, an evening dress with pleated skirt. Next year's fashions in review.....