NEWS FROM U.S.A.

America's North Pacific coast reels under the worst earthquake in its history. In Seattle, school buildings are cracked like toys, but children (away on holiday) escape injury. Seven die, scores are injured in the two-minute tremor. Damage to property is severe over a 500 mile area - extending from Victoria, British Columbia, to Salem in Oregon.

North-West America spends Easter digging out from a 10-million-dollar catastrophe.

Down in Georgia, star golfers battle it out in the Masters Golf Tournament. Here is Johnny Bulla driving off, and after him comes Slamming Sammy Snead. Snead (regarded by many as the uncrowned King of golf) is behind by five strokes at the half way mark, but makes a grand come-back. At the 16th hole, he tries a long one. Watch the fan in the foreground! His reaction tells the story of a near miss.

At the final hole, it's a twenty footer. Snead can do it in three and still win - but he does it the champion's way. A brilliant performance brings Sammy Snead the golfing prize of the year and congratulations from veteran Bobby Jones.
