Fire at Munich Film Studio

WORLD IN FILM 215/4

At the Geiseltasteig film studio one of the large stages was entirely destroyed by fire. This is one of the last scenes of the film "Verspieltes Leben" with Brigitte Hornay, Axel v. Ambesser and Kurt Meisel. Shortly after, in this large set, the fire broke out. The fire crew of the company and all workers tried to extinguish the blaze. From Munich and vicinity 17 motor engines arrived. But the stage could not be saved. The custodian of the Bavaria-Filmkunst plant estimates the damage at 4 to 500.000 D.Marks. The joint efforts of the fire brigade and the workers resulted in localizing the fire on this one building.
