

49/87

FARRAN HOME WITH POLICE GUARD

An airliner from Africa brings to London Airport a man whose arrival has been shrouded in secrecy. It's Major Roy Farran, much-decorated former Commando officer, who later served in Palestine and became the target for Stern Gang terrorists. A parcel bomb - that had been addressed to him - instead killed his brother Rex. Major Farran has come back to Britain to stand as a Parliamentary candidate. Police will escort him at all his engagements.