PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

London

At St. Paul's Cathedral Mr. and Mrs. Churchill honour an old friend - the late Admiral Lord Keyes. There too, is Lady Keyes, and with her are the veterans of Zeebrugge, where Roger Keyes earned undying glory 32 years ago. Representatives of the British and U.S. Navies pay tribute to a great leader of men in two world wars. Keyes will be remembered not only for Zeebrugge, but also for his command of that daring young band - the Commandos. To them, he gave his son, and on the tablet unveiled by Mr. Churchill - both are honoured - Keyes the sailor and Keyes the V.C. Of father and son Mr. Churchill said - "They were two heroic Englishmen."

Georgia

At Fort Benning, Georgia, President Truman receives a model tank - before seeing America's army parade its might. As Commander-in-Chief, Mr. Truman sees next the Air Force in action - from the giant B-36 to the smallest jet fighter.

The highspot comes with a demonstration of the B-36s still-secret bombload - an ear-shattering statement of Air Force power.

London

Down Chapel Street market - in the heart of Islington - Britain's sportsman of the week Terry Allen is just another barrow boy. To him, a cauliflower has two meanings. The new fly-weight champion of the world is Islington's most popular greengrocer. In winning the title from Frenchman Honore Pratesi, ex-sailor Allen won the acclamation of the sporting world and the congratulations of his neighbours. In the footsteps of Scotsmen Benny Lynch and Jackie Patterson now walks Londoner Terry Allen.
