

CLIVEDENTHE QUEEN MEETS U.S. TEACHERS

Cliveden House, Bucks, provides a beautiful setting when Lady Astor welcomes the Queen to her home and to meet some of the 146 American and 130 Dominion teachers now spending a year in Britain under an exchange-of-teachers scheme. It is a United Nations occasion, with 600 guests, including His Excellency Krishna Menon, India's High Commissioner.

The Archbishop of Canterbury - officiating - and Earl and Countess Mountbatten - grandparents - arrive at the 600-year old Mersham Parish church for an important occasion of another kind. The christening of the month-old son of Lord and Lady Brabourne.

Not every youngster has a Princess at his baptism, but Princess Elizabeth makes this a very special exception.

A sight to please all eyes. Michael John is too young to know that to hold a child in her arms is something no woman can resist.
