

LONDON

EVERY MAN TO HIS TASTE

Candlelight is the right setting for wine and that's how experts test for colour at this greatest-ever wine-tasting underneath the arches of London Bridge.

Then you 'nose' it for the bouquet. As there are some 150 wines to be sampled it looks like being a busy and dizzy party. But experts rarely swallow the wine they taste, so all may yet be well, though there's many a sip twisted cup and lip.

Wine is a kindly drink, to be enjoyed with all the senses. But after so many samples, some of the senses can become blurred, with quite startling results!
