

"LIGHTS OUT" IN LONDON

Remember when the Lights of London got lit up just two years ago - and so did we? What a night that was! Good-bye to the last of wartime glee and all memories of the black-out. Shop-windows a blaze of light and then filling up with things to buy. Yes, doesn't seem so long ago, does it?

And now - Sorry we need the fuel. Switch them off!

If we don't save fuel, things will be grim - so it's much better to dim and bear it.
