

PARIS

BIG FOUR MEET TO SEEK PEACE

After four months of negotiations, the Palais Rose welcomes representatives of the Big Four. Doctor Jeausp is American Ambassador at Large. From Russia comes Mr. Gromyko who showed at UNO Meetings he knows how to say No! Mr. Davies is Mr. Bevin's Under-Secretary. Chief aim of the talks is to find the cause of East-West friction. The conference gets off to a difficult start as both parties have different agendas. The French representative is Monsieur Paredi; the fact that France at the moment has no government makes no difference. If the deputies can reach a good working agreement the Foreign Ministers will meet later to find the solution. But the success of the talks depends on what instructions have been given to Mr. Gromyko.