

NEWS FROM KOREA

Off the Korean coast, helicopters fly wounded from the front to the hospital ship "Consolation." Plastic hoods cover the casualties during flight. While these men are being treated, the 'copter heads back to the battle zone for more wounded.

Meanwhile, in the snowy Korean hill country, one of the new heavy eight-inch self-propelled guns goes out to blast entrenched Reds from a ridge-top. The long-barrelled gun, now being used extensively in the Korean War, is capable of going almost anywhere, despite its bulk and weight.

And hits are scored, driving out the dug-in Communists!
